SUN BEAMS

by WALTER M. BARRETT

The meeting held Monday to lay plans for a celebration here on February 22 and 23 was far from satisfactory from the stand point for which it was called, but a thought was introduced which may more than offset the failure to arrive at a definite answer for the proposed festival. Represntatives were present from the Donner Summit area and the idea of a closer affiliation between the businessmen of that region with other interests in Truckee, Lake Tahoe and the entire Donner snow area, was proposed. The aims of these various clubs, resorts and businessmen are to promote increased interest in the region and with this thought in mind it was agreed that united efforts could bear far better results than individual endeavors. We can see benefits for all concerned providing everyone is willing to cooperate and we heartily endorse the idea.

We have heard of many inducements to urge people to try a new product, but none, we think, excels the offer of the Truckee Outing Club in introducing the new up-ski and winter sports area here. A membership ticket in the club, which sells for only $2, grants the holder free use of the up-ski and other privileges of the hill, including the warm pavilion and use of the scaffold, for the entire season. And the membership is not limited to Truckee people alone, anyone being permitted to avail themselves of this opportunity. Taking into consideration the excellence of the new electrically propelled 1500-foot tow, we opine the offer is a gift.

The report of the Truckee Public Utility District for the past year bears out other facts which indicate that Truckee is not "slipping" as some of the pessimists would have us believe but consistently and surely forging ahead. Each year the district shows progress and despite low rates, the revenue grows steadily. The audit reflects the efficient manner in which the affairs of the district have been conducted and we believe those responsible have earned the confidence of the residents they serve.

Truckee Red Cross Sends Clothes to Headquarters; Need Is Still Pressing

Mrs. G. J. E. Keetch, chairman of thework committee of the Red Cross in Truckee, this week sent to Nevada City a consignment of finished garments which included the following: five cotton dresses, three flannel dresses, one large sweater, two small sweaters, three scarfs, nine pair of socks, three knit beanies, 12 diapers, four 'babies' gowns, two shawls and one heavy wool dress. QUALIFYING MEET

Large Crowd of Skiers Is Expected Here For Races

While it was decided that the season is too far advanced to promote a crediable celebration this year on February 22 and 23, plans were made at a meeting Monday night to stage a small celebration this year and lay the groundwork for a more elaborate event in 1942.

One of the major projects planned for the coming year will be revival of the dog derbies that made Truckee famous. It is not the intention of the sponsors to promote anything elaborate as was held some years ago when exhorbitant prizes were given and thousands spent to present the program.

As tentatively outlined in the meeting, the affair will attract dog teams from California and nearby states who may come here under the sponsorship of clubs or private resorts. It was pointed out that this is an ideal location for the proposed races and other features which will go to make up the program. Further meetings will be held before anything of a definite nature can be announced but those in attendance Monday were enthusiastic over the prospects.

The affair this year, as now planned, will include a beginner's day in which those who have never skied will be given instructions by the score or more local skiers who are qualified to teach the fundamentals of the art. Other features may be worked out to make the weekend sufficiently attractive to draw the ski fans.

On that date the Interscholastic Ski Federation meet, which embraces six or seven schools, will be held here and that event alone will be an attraction.

Yell Nobles, president of the Truckee Outing Club and manager of the Bank of America branch here, was designated as general chairman.

Father Of Local Teacher Passes At Capitol City After Lengthy Illness

A requiem mass was celebrated at 10 a. m. today in St. Francis' church for James David Lothrop, 70, retired Sacramento grocer and father of Miss Marion Lothrop, Truckee high school teacher, who died at his home Tuesday after a long illness.

Lothrop was born in Cordelia, Solano County. His parents were early day California settlers. He lived for a time in Goldfield, Nev., moving to Sacramento in 1914. He operated a grocery until ten years ago when he was forced to retire due to ill health.

He is survived by his wife, three daughters, two sons, two brothers and two sisters.

Fish and Game Board To Continue To Sponsor The Junior Game Patrol

The Junior Fish and Game Patrol will be continued under the management of the fish and game commission. George Seymour of the division of fish and game, who has worked with the patrol, has been placed in charge.

"With this wholehearted backing of the fish and game commission," he said, "I have a great deal of confidence in the future success of the Junior Fish and Game Patrol. Preliminary work will be necessary and with the continued support of sportsmen and service clubs I feel a foundation has been laid for a sound, educational program."

Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Guthridge of Oakland were week-end guests at the home of Miss Catherin Rossarini.

ULLAND WINS OVER ROY MIKKLESEN AT BENEFIT SKI MEET

Siggurd Ulland, Norwegian-born skier for the Sugar Bowl Ski Club, Sunday won the Class A jumping competition at the James Worden Benefit Meet at Cisco with leaps of 142 and 147 feet. Ulland was followed by Roy Mikklesen and Ronald Mangseth, both of Auburn. Carl Bechdolt, Jr., of Tahoe City was fourth.

In Class B jumping, Arthur McMurray of University of California was the victor. Despite the fact that Dick Carnell of Tahoe had the longest standing jump (72 feet) in class C, Byron Johnson of Kingvale, skiing for Auburn had the highest point score.

Bob Blatt of Stanford University won the slalom event.

Officials in charge said approximately $800 had been raised through sale of tickets which will go to the injured honoree of the meet.

A surprise visitor at the tournament was Jim Worden himself with his leg in a cast. He was presented with the 1941 Jeffers Cup, won by the California team at Sun Valley early this month. It was in the 1940 Jeffers meet that Worden was injured while scoring the winning points for the state team. He already has last year's cup.

A storm of Saturday was followed by a day of perfect weather to make conditions ideal for the meet.

ROTARIANS HEAR OF DANGER IN GIVING UP ASIATIC ISLANDS

The United States would be committing a grave international error to relinquish the Phillipine Islands to the mercies of Japan, Irving Dexter told members of the Truckee-Tahoe Rotary Club Monday night. Dexter spent over 30 years in the Orient and appeared to be well posted on his subject.

John Ciardella was program chairman of the meeting.

Ted Henderson, acting president of the Reno Rotary club, and Tate Williams. secretary of the club, were also speakers at the meeting.

Other guests of the club were G. Gini, Keith Weeden, Earl Edmunds and Larry McKelvey, all of Truckee; and Ben Hitchcock, Alaskan dog team man who is visiting in the Donner Summit area.

Sanctioned Ski Meet Scheduled For February 8

Revival of Dog Derby May Result From Local Meeting

EVENTS SCHEDULED

Time Too Short To Provide Races Here During February

A sanctioned ski meet will be held in Truckee on February 8 and 9 and the tournament directors, Robert Siebold and Robert Bowers, have sent out more than 100 application forms to various clubs in the central section of the California Ski Federation.

The meet will be a qualifying event for men and women in the slalom and downhill races in B class.

The 13 clubs comprising the central section are expected to send teams to qualify for the state championship to be held at Yosemite on March 8 and 9. The sectional meets are being held this season to avoid the confusion which has accompanied the state championship races in the past.

Local skiers are practicing to offer stiff competition to the visiting contestants. The Truckee Outing Club is sponsoring the affair.

The plan would reorganize the state into five counties, each centering around a major city. The local delegation voiced opposition to the measure.

Beside Robertson, Supervisors Cary Arbogast, Warren Odell and Jay Coughlan and County Clerk R. N. McCormack attended the session.

Truckee's new variety store will be opened Saturday, L. A. Greene, the proprietor announces. The store will be located in the Owens building between Rossarini's and Walt's Meat Market where the building has undergone a complete remodeling to make way for the new equipment and stock.

On another page of the Sierra Sun this week will be found a few of the many outstanding bargains being offered. Greene urges, however, that regardless of whether you are purchasing or not, come in and inspect the store and stock.

"We are proud of our improvements and increased stock," Greene said, "and we want you all to come in and inspect the new establishment which we believe is a credit to the community."

TOTAL SNOW FALL IN 1941 TO DATE AT LAKE SET AT FOUR FEET

TAHOE CITY— Barometers indicate continued clear weather for this region and temperatures were suprisingly high for the mid-winter season. Ice on the reservoirs and along the streams showed signs of thawing and the snow level is beginning to settle and pack.

According to records of W. A. Simmonds, official weather observer, the snow storms since Jan. 1 have totaled 48 inches of snow for this locale and 4.92 inches of precipitation. For the season beginning July 1, 1940, to date the rpecipitation totals 19.91 inches. The snow pack on the level at the present measures 31 inches at lake level wth from three to five feet on surrounding mountains. On Monday morning the official lake level stood at 6226.65 feet above sea level.

Simmonds stated that in clear weather the lake's level may deminish surprisingly, even though the water gates at the dam are all closed. He said that with a heavy east wind blowing he has known evaporation on the lake to total as much as .05 of an inch per day.

District Has Made Progress Report Shows

Receipts Continue To Show Gains In Public Utility District

AUDIT IS COMPLETE

Full Report Will Be Given Within Next Few Days

The Truckee Public Utility District, locally owned and operated power and water concern, made healthy and substantial progress during 1940, according to the annual audit just completed by Harry M. Straine, certified public accountant employed by the district to audit the books and accounts.

In the electrical department total receipts for 1940 were $2,818.55 more than in 1939. During the year just closed these receipts included the cash on hand January 1, 1940, and totalled $31,444.85 as compared with $28,626.30 for the year previous.

Of this total, the largest item, of course, was from the sale of power, $628.13 more being received during 1940 than in 1939. Sale of power in 1940 brought $26,134.35, while during 1939, $25,506.22 was collected from the same source.

These comparative balances reflect even a better condition than first meets the eye, when it is taken into consideration that during 1940 two $1,000 bonds were retired, beside the interest due. Only one $1,000 was purchased back the year prior.

Another item which also increases the value of the district was $1502.55 contributed to community projects. These include $1,000 to winter sports and $400 to the fish program.

Despite these heavy drains on the district, the cash balance on December 31, 1940, was $920.26 over the cash balance of December 31, 1939. The report shows a cash balance on the first of this year of $5,753.45 while on the same date last year it stood at $4,833.19.

Some of this difference may be attributed to the fact that the water department during 1939 took $1220 from the electric department while only $514.28 was needed to complete the project during 1940.

Operating Costs

The cost of wholesale power from the Sierra Pacific Power Company increased $104.48 during the year and the operating costs for that same period increased as a whole only $138.52. Power during 1939 was listed at $11,699.01 while during 1940 it increased to $11,803.49, the report indicates.

The total operating expense for 1940 was $18,785.46 as compared with $18,646.94 for the previous 12 months.

Internal Revenue Man To Be Three Days in Area To Aid in Tax Returns

Clifford C. Anglim, collector of internal revenue for the first California district, this week announced that on Feb. 26 and 27 William B. Anater, his deputy, will be in Truckee to aid local people in filling out their income tax returns for 1940. He will make his headquarters at the Sierra Tavern while here. On Feb. 28 he will be at the Tahoe Inn, Tahoe City, for a similar purpose.

The Revenue Act of 1940 has made important changes in respect to the liability of individuals for filing of income tax returns. Individuals under the following circumstances must file returns covering 1940:

Single persons or married persons not living with husband or wife, having a gross income of $800 or more.

Married individuals living together having a combined gross income of $2,000 or more.

The net income is no longer to be used in determining liability for the filing of federal income tax return. Failure to file incurs heavy penalties under the law.

WINGS for AMERICA

by Don Wiley

MEMBER, AVIATION WRITERS ASS'N

The story of Europe's air warfare has been one of murderous monotony....dispatch after dispatch telling of the death and maiming of the civilian populations in English cities. But recently two events have been reported which are of extreme significance.

The scene of one of these events was the Mediterranean. The other was set over Northern France.

In the Mediterranean, the airplane scored again, and scored decisively, against seapower. German and Italian bombers (the former were in preponderance) smashed the 9000-ton cruiser Southhampton so thoroughly she had to be scuttled and did considerable damage to the aircraft carrier Illustrious.

STUKAS IN ACTION

It will be some time before we know exactly how the Meditrannean action was fought..whether the principal damage was done by dive bombers or torpedo carrying planes. However, neither the Nazis nor Fascists have specialized to any great extent in the latter, and as the battle was fought within range of shore it seems probable the brunt of the attack was carried by landplanes using standard dive-bombing tactics.

This isn't the first time aircraft have badly punished surface craft in World War II. At Dakar, off Norway and at Taranto the story was the same. But neither these successes nor the Mediterranean attack prove the supremacy of airplane over the warship. They do prove, though, that some types of warships are vulnerable to attack from the air and must be protected in every way possible..by anti-aircraft batteries, by heavier armor when possible, and by defending airplanes.

A SMALL PRICE

The Nazis and Itlaians lost at least 12 planes during the attack. But this is a small price to pay for the destruction of as an expensive a weapon of war as a 9000-ton cruiser and the damaging of an even more expensive aircraft carrier.

The other significant event was the first large-scale daylight raid by the British RAF on enemy-occupied territory. Its significance lies in the fact that this raid upon hostile airfields in Northern France marked the first time the British have used fighter escorts for their bombing raids.

In the past, Britain simply hasn't had enough fighters to provide her bombers with any sort of protection and still leave sufficient Spitfires and Hurricanes to fight off the almost nightly raids by Nazi bombers which, incidentally, have had a ratio as high as 10 fighter escorts to each bomber.

NIGHT RAIDS ONLY

And so the British had to send out their bombers at night without protection, trusting to darkness and the cloudy weather.

Now, however, the tide seems to be turning. Reports from England say as many as 400 to 500 fighters escorted the British bombers in the French raid. And these escorts included the latest "Mark III" Spitfires and "Mark II" Hurricanes, the fastest ships the British have produced.

London interprets this event to mean the RAF is convinced it is now strong enough (thanks to its own increased production and the increasing stream of American-built warplanes reaching England) to match itself against Hitler's Luftwaffe under any conditions.

CALIFORNIA AVIATION

The U. S. Army's new advanced training school near here has been officially designated as "Stockton Field" by the Adjutant General of the Army, it was announced this week.

The Army Air Corps has selected a 960-acre site near Taft for a basic training school for pilots.

California, airplane manufacturing center of the nation, is going to have one of the largest anti-aircraft practice ranges in the country. The War Deparment has announced it will erect a $360,000 project in the Mojave Desert.

THE BEST IN THE INDUSTRY

A lot of folks we know kinda titter at us folks that live in small towns but then we always have the last laugh.

Take for instance the motion picture side of the scene. Here in Truckee we don't have a Fox West Coast Theater or a Loew's State or a Graumann's Chinese but then neither do we have an El Rey, a New Nippon or Mission. We have a neat, comfortable little house which is a real credit to the community. Manager Verne Shattuck is justly proud of his consistently good programs. He does not show corny triple bills and give away fur coats. He is running a house to entertain and for his audiences he obtains the best the industry has to offer.

During the coming month there will be shown at least six multi-million dollar productions all of which are less than a month out production. Yes, Verne has reason to be proud of his Donner Theater and folks in the Tahoe-Truckee-Summit area have a right to be proud of a businessman like V. C. Shattuck.

TEN HUNDRED MORE

Pontiac Motor Division's advertising for January and February will be carried by 2500 newspapers, according to W. J. Mougey ,advertising manager. Last year, during the same period, 1500 newspapers were used.

"Newspaper advertising results won the unanimous acclaim of dealers attending our monthly merchandising meetings," Mougey said. "Because the immediate impact of effective advertising is felt by dealers and their salesmen it was decided to continue and amplify our newspaper schedule."

McREYNOLD'S SUCCESSOR

The suggestion of Senator John Harold Swan of Sacramento that the President appoint a California jurist to the Supreme Court to replace Justice McReynolds is one of merit. If such a choice were to be made it might logically fall upon the shoulders of our able chief justice of the state supreme court, Phil Gibson, whose "judicial temperament" is acknowledged and respected by all.

State Leads U. S. In Gold Producing

SAN FRANCISCO —(RNS)— California led the nation and American possessions in gold productions in 1940 and ranked third in the value of silver mined during the year, it was revealed in Washington this week by the U. S. Bureau of Mines and the Federal Bureau of the Mint.

The state's gold production of 1,405,120 ounces was valued at $49,179,200, a 2 per cent drop from 1939. The Philippine Islands and Alaska ranked second and third in gold production. California's 1940 silver production, valued at $1,660,935, was exceeded by Alaska and Arizona.

The man with the HOE says—

This here column is goin to be sort of a clearin house for little bits of philosophy that I think is pretty good.—The Man with the Hoe.

In a cheerful little magazine, The Silver Lining of Port Huron, Mich., is one of the best little ole patriotic bits I've seen in an age and I've done a heap of seeing. The title is "America Is a Beautiful Word" and it goes on to say:

"What do you see when you look at the word 'America'? What mental picture do the seven letters create in your mind?

"To me the capital letter 'A' suggests our magnificent snow-covered mountain peaks, and the wigwams of the original Americans.

"The letter 'm' symbolizes the broad shoulders of our pioneers; shoulders-to-the-wheel pushing our frontiers westward; broad shoulders swinging axes, building a Nation.

"The letter 'e' might be the lariats of the cowboys riding the plains; the lariats of Kit Carson or Buffalo Bill.

"The letter 'r' is a man with hand outstretched, in friendship and cooperaion, toward all who love freedom, justice and peace.

"The letter 'i' represents the individual American with his rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"The letter 'c' is a bent bow from which an arrow has just sped toward the stars of mankind's highest ideals.

"The final letter 'a' is a man on his knees in prayer, symbolizing a Nation which recognizes its Creator and gives thanks for His blessings.

"Yes, America is a beautiful word."

You can say that again, friend.

"The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee." These words from Jeremiah comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, February 2, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Love." Included in the Scriptural selections will be: "And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself....And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God" (Luke 13: 11, 13).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Jesus mapped out the path for others. He unveiled the Christ, the spiritula idea of divine Love....In witness of his divine commission, he presented the proof that Life, Truth, and Love heal the sick and the sinning, and triumph over death through Mind, not matter" (pp. 38, 54).

"Col." Frank Powell says he don't like the weather but he don't know what to do about it. Do you?

Jus about the most industrious man in town is Al Fontana. He's also pretty smart. He learned a long time ago that if you want a thing well done, you've go to do it yourself. I went over to his place a fortnight back to get his okeh on a printing order and there he was, perched up on a ladder fixing a steam pipe. That, I guess, is just one of the secrets in building a hand laundry into a modern steam laundry and dry cleaning establishment with an annual payroll of $12,000.

In one of our trade papers was a test tube for towns with a number of things on what goes to make a good town. I put Truckee to the acid test and came up with a 3.3 average even against the handicap of the lack of library facilities. Zero, of course, was the lowest score and 5.0 the highest so the town we live in isn't half bad at all.

We hear from very reliable sources that Bruna Esola is fit to be tied sometime during February. She will be the third Loynd fountain girl to change her surname this winter. Dot Snider took the velvet path during the Merry Christmas season and Glenda Talcott fell in the fall. Well, Tina?

The heighth of self-possessiveness (gall to the non-technical) was hit by a carload of "tourists fourth class" parked in the driveway to the Standard station here last week while the occupants ate their lunchs and blocked business.

Rairoadiana

The first instance of United States mail being transported by rail occurred on the South Carolina Railroad, extending westward from Charlestown, S. C., in November, 1831. On or about January 1, 1832, the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad began carrying mail between Baltimore and Frederick, Md. Shortly after the opening of the Baltimore & Ohio between Baltimore and Washington in 1835, a car was fitted with a compartment for carrying United States mails between the two cities. The postmaster in Washington and the postmaster in Baltimore each had a key to the mail compartment. On July 7, 1838, an act of Congress made all railroads official postal routes.

In the early stages of their development, both the B & O and the South Carolina railroads tried cars with tread-mills driven by horses. It is reported that the strange contrivance tried out by the B & O was condemned after it had been derailed by a trespassing cow.

Experimental cars equipped with sails were tried on both the South Carolina and the Baltimore and Ohio.

The famous western scout and Indian fighter earned the nickname "Buffalo Bill" as a result of his contract to supply buffalo meat to construction crews engaged in building the Union Pacific railroad.

SUGAR BOWL— The Sunday crowds grow larger and tempers grow shorter as frantic women scream for safety pins while their escorts howl for more of that stuff from a bottle. It's fun to see them, but, and hereby hangs a tale, of tired snow bunnnies shivering in the cold mountain air and others standing dejectedly in the deep powder trailing a toboggan, bitterly disappointed that they have not been allowed to take it down the through the slalom course. Keep your spirits up, though, there'll be a whopping big toboggan slide in here one day, a stack of Coca-Cola cases as high as Mount Lincoln and enough safety pins to hold up the pants of the entire Russian populace.

A grand surprise for all ski addicts. John Potter, internationally known skier an d fencer, plans to open the first indoor ski slide ever to appear on the Pacific Coast. It is one hundred feet long and thirty feet high. Address, 40 Fremont Street, San Francisco. Sounds screwy, but you ski on door mats loaded with borax. However we've tried it and skis respond better than on ice cubes churned up into imitation sonw. Guess it will not be long before we will be buying tickets to the ski follies.

Mrs. Moes (pronounced moose), ski enthusiast from the Dutch East Indies, braved the perils of the Overland Run the other day, took a terrific spill at which point both her heels flew off—a heel sold her the shoes—and vanished into the deep powder snow. It was quite sometime before Mrs. Moes was seen back on the lodge porch.

We hear that the Army Ski Troops are not allowed to use steel poles on account of mustard gas. Wonder what their foot plates and bindings are going to be made of. Speaking of the Army on skis, Bestor Robinson, chairman of the sub-committee for equipment and technique under the National Winter Defense Committee (phew) lunched at the Bowl on Saturday to discuss plans with out ski club secretary for a three-day National Ski Patrol tour in April for patrol leaders from all California ski clubs and resorts.

The National Ski Patrol is here to stay and is functioning with ever increasing efficency. On the patrol are Sherman Chickering, Peter Wenzel, Bill Graham, George Dondero, Silah Chamberlain, John Wiley, leader, and John Galgiani, doctor for the squad.

Blizzards on Saturday and high winds with a lift slightly on the blink during part of Sunday prevented the Novice Slalom and second scheduled Eagle Test from being run off over the weekend. But we operate, folks, until May 15th.

DIVIDED THEY FALL

The violent flames of civil war which have engulfed Rumania loom up, not as a conflict between conqueror and conquered, but as a struggle at the top to determine who is to rule he roost. Among Rumania's Nazis, as in Germany's Nazi party, when it first seized the reins of power, there are radicals and conservatives. To bring an end to that disruptive split within his own ranks, Hitler launched the swift blood purge which brought death to several Nazi leaders, among them Capt. Ernst Roehm, and left the Austrian ex-corporal in supreme command. Having won control in Rumania, the Iron Guardists likewise have proceeded ot war among themselves. Their bloody quarrel itself will provide the answer to that question, giving Germany, as it does, a plausible excuse for sealing its conquest of that country. Up to their last hour of independence, Rumania as well as Hungary have been the obliging dupes of Germany's guiding principle: "Divide and rule." Europe's small nations, permitting themselves to be divided, placing their faith in their own neutrality instead of in concerted action, simply ensured their own destruction.

LABOR'S CALL TO ARMS

The far-reaching tentacles of total war are no respecters of persons. To posecute the war with even greater effectiveness, the people of Britain now prepare to forego more of their liberty and, for the present, to surrender to their government their right to live as free citizens. The conscription of labor in England will give the government authority over all workers. It will forbid men to leave their jobs, and forbid employers to discharge workers, without the consent of the government. A crisis in which a nation finds itself fighting for its life has forced upon Britain this necessity of weilding her total labor resources into an organized, disciplined army "for the duration". Because the people have faith that their freedom will be returned to them when the war is over, they voluntarily tsubmit to this authoritarian control. Such control in time of war is as inevitable in a democracy as in a dictatorship. It is tho one means of making the nation temporarily a supremely efficient fighting machine. Such control definitely puts an end to freedom only if the democracy loses.

WORK AND FAITH

William Knudsen, the nation's defense director, speaking to the nation's governors, condensed into one word the need of the hour. That word was "Work". "If we have faith and are willing to have a little sweat for a year or so," said the production expert, "we might save a little blood later on." America has the resources and the capacity to produce. Now the time has come to test her capacity to sweat. One factor which materially reduces the perspiration point is hasty strike action in defense industries. If Congress takes Mr. Knudsen's advice to heart and sheds a certain amount of perspiration over a fair and temperate labor mediation bill it will do much to clear the way for full speed ahead.

CIVILIANS IN WAR

Civilians in countries at war today are on the battlefront. Cities and homes, as in no previous time, have become part of the front lines. This fact is made doubly clear in the figures just released by the statistical buerau of one of the nation's largest acturarial firms. From 1914 through 1918, the ratio of civilian to military deaths in war countries was 75 to 1. Thus far in this war, on the continent as well as in England, the ratio has been 3 to 1. The grim evidence speaks for itself.

A large part of California's world for some time has been bounded on the north, east, south and west, from nadir to zenith, by the fat storm clouds of Jupiter Pluvius. Old J. P. has proved himself the soul of constancy. In many sections of the State his relentless downpours have been fifty per cent greater than normal. For this reason California, for one, will await with keen interest the emergence of Mr. Woodchuck on next Groundhog Day, February 2. If he spies a clouded sky, there'll be a soon coming end to wintry weather—so tradition says—and warm spring days will bring the orchards and fields of California into early bloom. But, as the ancient saying goes, "If Candlemas be bright and clear, we'll have two winters in the year." Not that many Californians in the rain-drenched areas wouldn't swear they had already endured two winters. All right, Mr. Groundhog, come in with the verdict.

Covering the Legislature

by ALLEN G. THURMAN
(Assemblyman for the Sixth District)

The legislature last Sunday completed its first part of the 54th session wih a total of 3855 bills being introduced in both houses during the three weeks the legislature was in session. In the Assembly 2564 bills were introduced while in the Senate 1291 measures were proposed. The total number of bills is about 150 less than were introduced during the 1939 session.

The legislature will now be in recess for five weeks, reconvening on Monday, March 3rd. Following the recess each legislator is permitted to introduce but two bills for a total of 240 additional bills.

Your legislator has introduced some 12 bills, most of them amendments to various codes and we are the co-author of several other measures all of which we will discuss at a later date. Our first bill, AB 224, which amends the military and veterans code to permit junior colleges to participate in the California high school cadet program, if they so desire, passed the senate Saturday where it was handled by Senator Jerrold L. Seawell, one of our four senators. The bill received the unanimous vote of all members present in both houses. It now goes to the governor for his signature.

The senate and assembly in joint session last Friday heard Governor Olson deliver his budget message. His message was encouraging. While the budget as presented is five million dollars less than the proposed budget of 1939, taking into consideration that there is nearly a $30,000,000 drop in state relief from the budget for relief in 1939, the 1941-43 budget cannot be said to be lower than the budget of 1939-41, but is in reality higher. Of this amount some $21,000,000 of the increase is in fixed charges, according to Finance Director George Killion and there's practically nothing that can be done about it.

There is a much improved feeling existing these days between Governor Olson and the legislature. Notwithstanding that the governor attempted to "purge" many members of the legislature whwo opposed his tax program in the 1939 session. the majority of the legislators have forgotten the bitterness of the election and are determined to work for the best interests of the people of California and cooperate with the chief executive in so doing.

Governor Olson has himself been responsible too for a better understanding between the executive and the legislative branches of the state government. At a dinner which he gave the legislators and their wives last week in Governor's Hall, he told the large number of legislators present that now was the time to forget partisan politics and work together for the best interests of the state What has brought about the change of attitude, we cannot say. It may be due to the fact that the economy group is in control or it may be due to other things. At any rate, we hope the better understanding will continue.

The writer is looking forward to a busy time during the second part of the session when the various committees begin to function. Of the nine committees of which we are a member, five are among the heaviest committees of the legislature. These include reapportionment, motor vehicles, commerce and navigation, ways and means, and fish and game. There are approximately 200 bills to be heard in the fish and game committee alone. As a member of the ways and means committee we will be at the Capitol one week before the legislature reconvenes for the purpose of considering the budget.

Washington Observations...

by J. E. JONES
(N. I. N. S. Commentator)

AMERICANS AREN'T LAZY

Many times and oft have the poll-makers disturbed all of us with their questions and answers labeled "nation wide surveys of public opinion." During the recent Presidential campaign the voters were subjected to something resembling mass-production of "polls," which were so different that they gave aid and comfort to supporters of both candidates, Roosevelt and Willkie.

The Gallup polls have stood out, and stood up, against all challengers as to their accuracy for many years, including the polls about elections, major economic questions and policies of the administration.

It is, therefore, rather comforting to all of us who continue to pin our faith in democracy to study a Gallup Poll showing hat 67 per cent of the American people who were asked in a nation wide poll whether they were ready to devote an hour a day of their time to the Red Cross and other volunteer work to back programs of national defense have answered "yes".

In another Gallup Poll the union labor workers in important manufacturing centers of a large number of states were asked whether they would be willing o work and extra day at the same rate of pay they are getting now. 68 per cent answered "yes" and 27 per cent "no". The remainder were undecided. These results indicate that American workers are not trying to pinch off a little extra pay just because some leaders and public officials say so. The men who are actually running the machines have definitely stated that hey are not only willing but anxious to do their bit.

The "overtime penalty" is urged by some government officials to "stimulate employers to train new workers; to organize second or third and even fourth shifts of production workers." The voice of public opinion expressed by the Gallup Poll indicates that the average countryman takes a broader view of the problems and evidently interprets the old objective of "business as usual" to be as necessary as the present slogan "keep America out of the war." There is plenty of comfort to everybody in polls of public opinion, especially those that reassure us that Americans have not grown soft or lazy.

STATISTICALLY SPEAKING

..Production of electricity is measured in "kilowatt hours"—but even though the average layman does not know what that stands for he will no doubt grasp the importance of statistics which show that total electrical production in 1920 was around 43 million K.W.H. and it has risen to over 130 million, a gain of over 300 per cent.

American railroads had more than double hte revenue from passenger business in 1926 than in 1939 when $417 million was the income. An increase in freights will likely show that the lines approach the mark of their 1926, when freight revenues were above $4 billion.

A CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION SERVING YOU

Home Makers Corner

by Katherine Kerry

Eventide is the happy time of day ....work is over and the streets are filled with cheerful folks rushing home to their own fireside and those they love best—their families.

Responsibility for the right kind of a home-coming party rests with Mamma. A good dinner does much to straighten out the annoyances of the day, and I am thoroughly sold on he idea of letting a few good cooking odors "drift through the household", as an appetite pepper-upper.

You will have no trouble coaxing anyone to eat if you have the following dinner:

Tomato Juice Cocktail

Spiced Pork Chops - Cinnamon Apples

Stuffed Sweet Potatoes

Buttered Green Peas

Peach Cobbler

SPICED PORK CHOPS

Six loin pork chops, 2 tablespoons of flour, ½ teaspoon of thyme, 1 clove of garlic, 1 tesapoon of Worcestershire, ⅛ teaspoon of cayenne, 1 lemon sliced, 3 tablespoons of shortening.

Cut the clove of garlic and rub the frying pan with it before melting the shortening. Season the chops with salt and mix the flour with the thyme and the cayenne and dredge the chops. Brown the chops in the fat. Place a slice of lemon on each chop. Add a small bayleaf, the Worcestershire, and 1 cup of hot water. Cover and steam for 30 minutes or bake in a 350 degree oven about 35 to 40 minutes.

STUFFED SWEET POTATOES

Srub the potatoes well and bake until soft in a 375 degree oven. Cut in half and take out the pulp and mash it using 3 tablespoons of butter, ½ teaspoon of salt and hot milk or oragne juice to moisten. Pile the mixture back into the shell and pop in the oven to brown lightly.

PEACH COBBLER

One egg, beaten, ⅓ cup of milk, ¼ cup of California grown beet sugar, 3 tablespoons of melted shortening, 1 cup of flour, 2 teaspoons of baking powder, ½ teaspoon of salt, 1 can of sliced peaches.

Beat the egg light, add the beet sugar, shortening and milk. Sift the flour, baking powder and sal together and add to the first mixture. Beat thoroughly. Use 1 can of sliced peaces, ½ cup of California beet sugar, ½ teaspoon of nutmeg. Half fill baking dish with peaches, blended with the sugar and spice and cover with the batter and bake in a 375 degree oven for 30 minutes. Serve hot with cream—whipped or plain.

SAN FRANCISCO— "The West" to the average American is a place name for that esction of the United States embracing Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. It is a land of color, of amazing distance, of the romance of vanished civilzations, and of living cultures closely related to prehistory and vastly differing from the habits and mode of life of the white man generally.

It was not so many years ago—ninety or a hundred—that the tide of population swept into the West. Miners, hunters and trappers, cattlemen and journalists, padres and hardy pioneers, conquistadores and scoundrels—left their history in such towns as Cripple Creek, Leadville, Angels Camp, Placerville, Tombstone and Virginia City.

To preserve the romance and glamor of the historic West as exemplified in landmarks and fiestas, rodeos and other typically western events, the Western States Promotion Council, Inc., an outgrowth of the 1939-40 Golden Gates Exposition Promotion Committee, has embarked on a campaign to "Save the Old West." The council, with the basic objective of promoting travel to and through the eleven western states, has adopted the slogan "See the Old West This Year" and has embarked on a five-point program submitted by J. L. Bossemeyer, vice chairman of the group and western supervisor of the United States Travel Bureau, Department of the Interior.

Under the plan, members of the council will gear their advertising and publicity efforts to bring an influx of tourists westward this year and in future years. Units of the council have just been formed in Colorado and Utah. Ted Huggins, chairman of the northern California group, anticipates that within a short time the council will have active units in every western state.

Facts and Figures on Echo Opening

Resolution Passed Urging Early Opening By State Leglislature

SACRAMENTO— One of the final acts of the assembly before the in terim recess last Sunday was the adoption of a resolution requesting Governor Olson, Public Works Director Clark and the California highway commission to take steps toward immediate opening of Echo Summit on the Placerville-Tahoe highway.

Citizens of Sacramento, Placerville and South Tahoe district have urged this highway to be kept open in the winter as a winter sport route. The sponsors of the resolution claim the work can be done for $10,000.

The action came after the highway commission last Friday deferred action until June on a request to open the road.

The resolution was introduced by Assemblyman Harrison W. Call of South San Francisco and a speech of endorsement was made by Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman of Colfax. The Colfax legislator also secured adoption of a resolution calling on state highway authorities to make a survey to determine the cost of bringing the Auburn-Truckee Highway, U.S. 40, up to national defense standards.

Sen. H. E. Dillinger of Placerville said he expected to arrange a conference to see what could be done toward getting the Echo summit open in the near future.

County Pays 491 Aged, 158 Children $22,000

The state department of social welfare reported this week that Nevada county's expenditure for aged aid in December amounted to $19,229.13. Distributed to 491 aged recipients, this resulted in an average payment of $39.16.

It was also reported that 158 needy children in this county received aid to a total of $2,772 during the month.

LIONS TO GO TO RENO

Members of the Truckee Lions Club will journey to Reno tonight where they will join other clubs of the district in paying compliment to the Internatonal president who is making an official visit. The affair will featured with a banquet at the Tavern.

ACCIDENT ON SUMMIT

Michael J. McCormack, instructor at the University of Nevada, and his passenger, Foster Harvey of Sacramento, were injured last week when the McCormack car ran under the rear of a Beckley truck at the foot of Donner Grade. Both were reported ecovering. A. C. Barrick, local patrolman, investigated.

State Highway Commission Sets $48,148 As Cost Of Opening

SACRAMENTO— The state highway commission today received a report from the water resources division indicating the cost of keeping Highway 50 open through the winter from Kyburz to Meyers, El Dorado county, would be approximately $48,148.

Meanwhile a delegation from El Dorado county was scheduled to appear before the commission to discuss the possibilities of winter maintenance of the highway by the state. Efforts of businessmen and resort owners in that area to clear the sonw blocking the highway by hand were halted by the last storm.

The survey conducted by the water resources division at the request of Frank W. Clark, public works director, shows it would be necessary to move 163,000 cubic yards of snow weighing approximately 34,000 tons to open the eleven mile stretch between Twin Bridges and Meyers.

The public works department also estimated additional equipment, including two rotary plows, push plows and light and heavy trucks, costing $44,000 would be necessary to maintain the highway during the winter season. Additional cost for garage and housing facilities which would be necessitated by purchase of the equipment was estimated at $30,000.

A highway division report shows the cost of opening the road last spring was $5,071.53.

District's Progress

Total disbursements for 1940, including redemption of bonds, salaries, materials, cost of power and other items necessary for the conduct of the business was $25,691.40. This compares with $23,793.11 disbursed during 1939.

Water Department

The water department is also in much better financial condition than at the beginning of 1940, the report shows.

While the total cash on hand on December 31, 1940, $933.39, was less than the $1498.81 on hand the year prior, the disbursements of $717.90 for 1940 offset the difference, the disbursements for 1939 being $1434.

Bonded Indebtedness

The bonded indebtedness against the district has been reduced from an original $20,000 to $8,000.

Bond No. 20, retired during the last year means a saving of $378.77 in interest during the life of the bond, which normally would have matured in nine years.

Net Gain

It will be noted in the report, which should be in the hands of all participants in the near future, that the net gain from operations before depreciation and community contributions was $6,770.89, compared with $6,614.41 for the previous year, a gain of $156.48.

The report compliments the directors and manager on the conduct of the business during the past year. The minutes were examined and were found satisfactory and the books and records were in excellent condition, showing, the business is being operated in an economical and efficient manner, Straine reported.
